

South Carolina League for Nursing Excellence in Teaching Award

The Excellence in Teaching Award recognizes educators for the development and implementation of innovative teaching strategies employed in a variety of settings. Individuals may be self-nominated or nominated by a colleague. A summary of the innovative teaching strategy, not to exceed two (2) typed double-spaced pages outlining the general description, purpose/objectives, outcome measurements, significance and implications of the strategy should be submitted along with an attached application. Please do not include any identifying information in the summary as a blind review process will be used to select the most innovative teaching strategies. Please send the original and three (3) copies of your application and abstract to:

Betsy McDowell
Professor of Nursing and Chair Department of Nursing
Newberry College
2100 College St.
Newberry, SC 29108
email: betsy.mcdowell@newberry.edu

Applications must be postmarked by September 15th. All applicants must be members of the South Carolina League for Nursing (SCLN). A membership application can be accessed at <http://www.nln.org/CLWebsites/SC/index.htm>. The top three applicants will be recognized with cash awards for the most innovative teaching strategy. Individuals selected will be expected to participate in the SCLN Awards Banquet to be held in November 2010 in Columbia by presenting a poster presentation. Abstracts of the winning projects will also be posted on the SCLN website.
